

Little Star Foundation Specialized Rancho Milagro Equine Therapy Programs

Who: Founder, Andrea Jaeger, former #2 in the world professional tennis player, using all her professional tennis earnings, (millions of dollars), strategically researched and created specialized Equine Therapy Programs to benefit diseased, disabled and disadvantaged stricken children and individuals.

What: Andrea Jaeger's Little Star Foundation is on its 31st year of providing Award Winning Therapeutic Riding Programs serving families, hospitals and care centers, schools and programs across the United States. Little Star Foundation's Equine Programs are provided at no cost to participants. Benefits include:

- Increased motor skill development that has been damaged, destroyed or limited from a life-threatening disease or life-altering condition.
- Improved balance, coordination, self-esteem and confidence.
- Learn problem solving and stay on task oriented skills.
- Develop abilities to communicate, participate and contribute to society in safe, non-violent ways.
- Improve medical conditions in respiratory, circulation and essential physical, emotional and cognitive areas.
- Heal and strengthen participants behavior and approach to life for a successful re-entry as a contributory member of family, school and community unit.
- Learn proper techniques of care, upkeep and maintenance of horses, ranch and farm life, self and surrounding members of program, family and community.

All transportation, meals, housing, activities and after care program costs are covered by Little Star Foundation.

Andrea Jaeger and Little Star Foundation have the opportunity to introduce the benefits of their Award Winning Equine Therapy Programs to a new audience of millions of children and families across America.

- Often times the only difference in a child avoiding a downward spiral in behavior and condition or avoiding a path of violent act against self or others is a specialized program such as Little Star Foundation helping make the life changing difference.
- In order to continue reaching at risk, diseased, disabled and disadvantaged children and individuals important funds need to be secured.
